

CASUNZIEI

Pasta, Missy Robbins

REST

45 minutes to 1 hour uncovered in the refrigerator

DETAILS

- Dough: egg-dough
- Region: Veneto, in Cortina d'Ampezzo, a ski town in the Dolomite range

METHOD

1. Make the egg dough, then roll and sheet it.
2. Dust a wooden board with 00 flour. Cover a sheet pan with parchment, then dust the parchment with semolina.
3. Lay one sheet on the board. Cut rounds with a #70 (2 3/4-inch) fluted pastry cutter, leaving 1/8 inch between them.
4. Load the filling into a pastry bag cut to a 1/2-inch opening. Pipe a quarter-sized dab into the middle of each round. The classic beet filling is loose, so pipe carefully.
5. If the dough feels dry rather than moderately tacky, mist the rounds with a spray bottle held 8 to 10 inches above the board. Skip this if the dough is already tacky.
6. Hold a round in your palm and fold the top half over the bottom half, lining up the edges, to make a half-moon.
7. Pinch the edge shut around the filling with thumb and index finger. Work back and forth a few times and push all the air out.
8. Set the piece on the prepared pan. Fill and fold the rest of the rounds, keeping them in a single layer, and dust the pan again with semolina.
9. Repeat with the remaining sheets.
10. Refrigerate uncovered for 45 minutes to 1 hour to dry. Covered pieces sweat and get too wet. To hold longer, lay plastic wrap loosely over the pan and refrigerate up to 8 hours.

NOTES

Cut from 2 3/4-inch rounds (#70 fluted cutter), spaced 1/8 inch apart on the sheet. Fluted only, no plain option given.

Filling per piece: a quarter-sized circle piped through a 1/2-inch opening.

Seal geometry: a plain half-moon. Fold, pinch the edge closed, done. There is no dimple and no collar, which is what separates it from cappelletti cut off the same #70 cutter.

Air must be forced out of the edge as you pinch.

The beet filling is looser than most, so it needs a careful hand at the piping stage.

Green and golden versions exist, built on alpine herbs, turnips, or potato, but the beet-filled version is the one associated with Cortina.

Storage: 45 minutes to 1 hour uncovered to dry, then up to 8 hours refrigerated under loose plastic.

Served with the classic alpine finish of foamy butter, poppy seeds, and smoked ricotta.
