CROQUETAS DE CARRILLERAS

YIELD	ACTIVE TIME	REST
~25 croquetas	20 min	Several hours in the fridge

INGREDIENTS

70 g	Butter
70 g	Flour
750 ml	Milk
150 ml	Braising liquid from the carrilleras
to taste	Carrilleras de ternera, braised, boned and chopped
to taste	Salt, pepper, nutmeg
as needed	Flour, egg, breadcrumbs plus panko (for coating)
as needed	Sunflower oil, for frying

METHOD

1. Melt the butter and add the sifted flour, cooking it about 5 min to lose the raw taste.
2. Add the milk gradually until it thickens, around 15 min.
3. Stir in the chopped carrillera meat and the braising liquid you reserved.
4. Season with nutmeg and go light on the salt. The braising sauce is already savoury.
5. Pour into a tray, cover to the surface, and chill a few hours in the fridge.
6. Shape, coat in flour, egg, and breadcrumbs mixed with panko. A second coat is optional. Fry in plenty of sunflower oil.

NOTES

Roux 1:1 (70 g flour : 70 g butter) to 750 ml milk plus 150 ml braising liquid, stated by the source.
A leftovers croqueta off the braise. The meat and its liquid give an unusually unctuous bechamel.
Panko mixed into the breadcrumbs plus a double coat stops them bursting in the fryer.
Salt carefully. The braising liquid brings both flavour and salt.
Chill the mass properly before rolling.
The meat quantity is given as "to taste" with no weight, so the meat-to-bechamel ratio is yours to set.
The source asks for sunflower oil, not olive, because it stands up to frying heat better. If you only have olive, use a very mild one. Either way, fry deep.
