EMPANADA DE COCHINITA PIBIL

YIELD	ACTIVE TIME	OVEN	ENERGY COST
About 12-15 individual empanadas, cut as 12 cm rounds	15 min	180 °C, 20-25 min	$1.89 (25 min bake plus 30 min, 3.5 kW at 59 cents/kWh)

INGREDIENTS

500 g	Cochinita pibil, already made and shredded
1 tsp	Achiote powder
1	Red onion, chopped
200 g	Fresh pineapple, cubed and roasted
1	Red pepper, chopped
1/2 tsp	Ground cumin
no quantity given	Extra virgin olive oil
no quantity given	Salt and pepper

METHOD

1. If starting from raw meat, make the cochinita pibil first. This recipe assumes 500 g already shredded.
2. Roast the cubed pineapple until caramelized and set aside.
3. Fry the red onion and red pepper until tender.
4. Combine the cochinita, onion, pepper, pineapple, achiote powder and cumin, and cook 3-4 min.
5. Cool the filling before assembling.
6. Roll the dough out and cut 12 cm rounds. Put a portion of filling in the centre of each, fold, seal and bake at 180 °C for 20-25 min until golden.

NOTES

Stovetop cook time is 10 min.
The source builds individual empanadas from 12 cm rounds, not one large one, and its dough is written up as manteca-nati.
A Yucatecan fusion: smoky pork plus caramelized pineapple to cut the fat, and a spectacular red-orange colour.
The recipe starts from cochinita that is already made. Use leftovers or buy it ready.
Drain the cochinita well. It should be juicy but not swimming, or it breaks the dough.
The roasted pineapple carries the sweetness and acidity that define the dish. Do not leave it out.
Achiote stains heavily. Watch your surfaces and clothes.
A little habanero or fresh salsa at the table takes it up a level.

DOUGH

Masa de Manteca, Nati

Yield: About 12-15 individual empanadas, cut as 12 cm rounds / Active Time: 15 min / Rest: 30 min

INGREDIENTS

500 g	Wheat flour
100 g	Lard
1	Egg
150 ml	Warm water
1 tsp	Salt

METHOD

1. Mix the flour and salt with the lard, the egg and the warm water, and knead to a smooth dough.
2. Leave the dough to rest 30 min.
3. Roll it out and cut 12 cm rounds.

NOTES

Written for the cochinita pibil empanada, which is built as individual rounds rather than one large empanada.
No yeast, so the 30 min rest only relaxes the dough before rolling.
