1 large empanada, base + tapa	15 min	1 h prove	180 °C, 50 to 60 min

ENERGY COST
$3.10 (60 min bake plus 30 min, 3.5 kW at 59 cents/kWh)

INGREDIENTS

600 g	Wheat flour
200 ml	Lukewarm water
25 g	Fresh compressed yeast (levadura prensada)
100 ml	Oil from the relleno sofrito
50 ml	White wine
1 tsp	Salt
1	Egg, for brushing

METHOD

1. Dissolve the yeast in the lukewarm water.
2. Mix the flour with the salt in a bowl, then add the yeasted water, the sofrito oil and the white wine.
3. Knead to a smooth, elastic dough that comes away from your hands.
4. Cover and prove 1 h, somewhere warm and out of draughts.
5. Turn it out onto a floured surface and knead 5 min, by which point it will have turned more elastic and less sticky.
6. Divide in two and roll thin, base and tapa. Fill with cold relleno and seal the edges. Cut a central chimney for the steam.
7. Brush with beaten egg and bake at 180 °C for 50 to 60 min, until golden.

NOTES

A fermented dough that still gets rolled thin, so it lands between springy and crisp. That is the distinguishing feature against the other bread doughs here.
Water hydration is 42%, counting the 200 ml water plus 50 ml wine against 600 g flour, which matches the source. The fat is the 100 ml of sofrito oil, 17% of flour weight, far less than the enriched doughs.
Sofrito oil as the fat is the Galician signature: it carries the relleno's flavour into the dough.
The white wine adds flavour and helps both the browning and the crispness.
