CRAB AND SALMON MOUSSE FILLING

INGREDIENTS

3	Crab meat — large cock crabs (or 1 kg white + 300 g brown)
6 l	Crab meat — water
100 g	Crab meat — salt
3	Crab meat — lemons, juiced
1 sprig	Crab meat — thyme
1	Crab meat — bay leaf
200 g	Salmon mousse — smoked salmon
200 g	Salmon mousse — sole (or other white fish)
1	Salmon mousse — egg white
600 ml	Salmon mousse — double cream
to taste	Salmon mousse — salt and pepper
1 kg	Final mix — white crab meat
300 g	Final mix — brown crab meat
200 g	Final mix — salmon mousse
quantity not given	Final mix — herbs, lemon juice and seasoning

METHOD

1. Bring the water, lemon juice, salt, thyme and bay leaf to the boil, drop in the crabs and simmer 10 minutes. Bigger crabs take longer.
2. Cool the crabs and pick all the meat, keeping white and brown apart. Keep the shells.
3. Skin and bone the sole and smoked salmon, cut into chunks, blend with the egg white to a smooth paste, then push through a fine sieve.
4. Set the paste over ice and stir in the cream slowly with salt and pepper.
5. Test the texture by poaching a spoonful in water held below a boil, and keep adding cream until it is right.
6. Fold 1 kg white crab meat, 300 g brown meat and 200 g of the mousse together, then season with herbs, lemon juice, salt and pepper.
7. Mix well and chill.

NOTES

Used in Crab Ravioli with Crab Sauce.
Two sub-components: picked crab meat and a separate salmon mousse. Only 200 g of the mousse goes into the filling, and the mousse quantities as written make far more than that. The source does not say what to do with the surplus.
The herbs in the final mix are never named.
Shells from cooking the crabs go to the crab sauce, and brown crab meat is also used in that sauce and as a garnish. Both are outside this file.
Portioned at 50 g per raviolo, cut with a 6 cm cutter.
