STRICCHETTI

REGION	REST
Emilia-Romagna, and across the rest of Italy under other names	3 to 4 hours at room temperature

METHOD

1. Make an egg-based dough, then roll and sheet it.
2. Dust a wooden board with a little 00 flour. Line a sheet pan with parchment, then dust the parchment with semolina.
3. Lay the sheets on the board and cut them into rectangles 1 1/2 by 2 inches with a fluted dough divider, or a fluted pastry cutter against a ruler. Keep them under wrap or a cloth as you go.
4. Put your index finger and thumb opposite each other at the middle of a rectangle and pinch the top and bottom edges together into a bow tie. Pinch hard; a loose center comes apart in the pot.
5. Shape the rest, laying them on the sheet pan in a single layer.
6. Dry 3 to 4 hours at room temperature, until the pinched center feels firm. To check, boil a single one and see whether it keeps its shape.
7. To hold it, wrap the pan in plastic and refrigerate up to 24 hours.

NOTES

Cut size is 1 1/2 by 2 inches, fluted on every edge, giving a finished bow tie about 2 inches long. Other makers go from about an inch up to considerably larger.
Needs a fluted dough divider or a fluted pastry cutter; a ruler helps keep the rectangles square. The forming gesture is a single hard finger-and-thumb pinch at the center, which is where the dialect name comes from.
This shape dries longer than any other egg pasta in the book, 3 to 4 hours rather than the 20 to 30 minutes most egg pastas get, because the pinch relaxes easily in boiling water. The boil-one test is the way to confirm it is dry enough.
Better known as farfalle, or bow-tie pasta.
Refrigerator limit is 24 hours.
In Emilia-Romagna it goes into sauces built on vegetables with a little meat: prosciutto and peas in springtime, sausage with cardoons or cavolo nero once it turns cold. Butter and parmigiano is the plain version.

DOUGH

Egg Dough

Makes: 954 g / Active Time: 8-10 min kneading / Rest: 30 min minimum, wrapped

INGREDIENTS

500 g	Tipo 00 flour
454 g	Egg yolks
as needed	Extra 00 flour for kneading
up to 1 tbsp, only if dry	Room-temperature water

METHOD

1. Mix the yolks lightly, without beating them.
2. Mound the flour on a wooden surface and open a well 5 to 6 inches across. Wider than that and the walls collapse.
3. Add half the yolks, drawing in flour from the inner wall with a fork, working round the circumference.
4. Add the rest the same way. If the wall breaks, scrape the escape back into the flour until the mass holds itself.
5. Knead 8 to 10 minutes: press down and away with the heel of your hand, rotate 180 degrees, fold, repeat. Scrape your hands and the board as you go.
6. Add water a tablespoon at a time only if it stays dry and refuses to come together.
7. Stop when it is smooth, firm, and springs back slightly when poked. The texture to aim for is Play-Doh.
8. Wrap and rest at least 30 minutes before rolling.

NOTES

454 g of yolks is roughly 24 to 26 eggs, so plan what the whites are for.
Yolks only, no whites and no whole eggs, which is what makes this rich and tender rather than elastic.
Dry winter air is the usual reason it will not come together. Flour the board sparingly, since excess dries it out.
Keeps 24 hours. Chilled overnight, pull it out 20 minutes before rolling.
